NEW SHELTER

CURRENT

Spring is the time of rebirth and renewal. As we move into spring of 2016, we are seeing so much evidence of growth, change and activity, especially here at our River's Edge Farm location. There is the beauty of the trees and flowers in bloom, birds nesting and singing, and multiple volunteers bustling about to maintain and beautify the lawn and grounds. We also see it with the continuous progression of our new shelter building project, the development of our organization and with the start-up of many of our most important programs which coincide with the good weather.

As we roll into 2016, one of the most important pieces of growth news we are most excited to share, is that we have reached ~ 67% of our Capital Campaign goal!!! This means we are getting so very close to getting the animals into their new home, as we only need to reach ~ 82% of our full campaign goal to make that happen! A total of ~ $430,000 is needed to complete the interior finish-out of the shelter and to make the critical move of seeing our homeless animal friends in their new digs as well as consolidating our operations at one site. This remains the most important goal of the campaign, but not the end of it. We still will be raising funds to pay off the mortgage and for the endowment. This gap, while not insignificant, continues to get smaller and smaller thanks to the generosity of our community - and the blood, sweat and tears of our numerous volunteers and staff alike. New Shelter (continued)

Speaking of volunteers, we need to share that at the end of April, Lorraine Manelis stepped down from her position on our board and from her roles as our Capital Campaign & Construction Committee Chair. We cannot thank her enough for over five years of hard work and for devoting so much of her time, heart and talents to help ensure the success of our organization and especially the new building project. While this is no doubt a big change, we remain optimistic about what the future holds. We are looking to new volunteers to assist in these leadership roles and feel we are well positioned to keep the forward momentum going based upon the solid project foundation Lorraine worked with us to build.

While we, as much as our community, are beyond anxious to vacate the old building and doing that is priority number one, we continue to need to simultaneously focus on the operation and care of our animals at our State Route 54 shelter. Together with the execution of multiple programs at our 72 Cameron Street/River's Edge Farm location, our services work to keep animals from ever needing to enter a shelter in the first place and aid in the prevention of cruelty to animals.

And, our programs are off to a really good beginning this spring. Our first Project Catnip (low-cost feline spay/neuter clinic) of 2016 was held in April with the outcome of 69 cats being spayed/neutered. Our May clinic was also filled-up. Canine training classes are also off to a great start as well with 3 beginner obedience/manners classes currently running, and agility (beginner and advanced) and Canine Good Citizen classes soon to begin. Our humane education efforts and Wellness Clinics are active this spring as well and continue throughout most of the year.

This year also began with a new model for animal cruelty investigations in our county. We discontinued our investigative role in cases, but maintained our function and partnership with the county to help support the rescue and the care of animal cruelty victims and to prioritize referrals from law enforcement for at-risk animals. The Steuben County Sheriff's Department took on the lead role for these investigations and designated Deputy Todd Terwilliger as the lead investigator. This transition has led to more resources being devoted to this critical work and is allowing our SPCA to focus much more intensively on prevention efforts. FLSPCA has spent much of this spring working cooperatively with the sheriff's office to provide support in the development of animal cruelty investigation related protocols and in assisting law enforcement with obtaining training in the area of animal cruelty investigations. In March of this year, we collaborated with the Humane Society of Greater Rochester Director of Law Enforcement, Reno Di Domenico, to organize and present two one-day animal cruelty investigation training programs to Steuben County road patrol deputies and other interested law enforcement agencies. Reno DiDomenico's presentation addressed animal cruelty laws and the how to address various types of complaints. Dr. Karen Doucette, D.V.M. provided instruction as to how to recognize when veterinary care is needed and minimum care standards. Sue Arthur, FLSPCA volunteer and emergency response team leadership member and Vicki Mosgrove, E.D. presented information as to the structure of our emergency response team, animal holding capabilities, working together, prevention programs and a referral system for at-risk animals. The class was well received and attended.

Moreover, this spring and moving on into the summer, we have and will continue to provide Trap, Neuter, Vaccinate & Return services for some of the most needy feral cat colonies in our area. Our outreach services are also ongoing and include assessments, education and coordination assistance. As our resources permit, we also provide animal food, animal transport to clinics and very low to no cost pet assistance services for some of the pets whose caretakers have structural barriers which prevent them from accessing pet assistance programs. It is our goal to continue to build resources and develop more formalized programs in these areas, as they aid in the prevention of animal cruelty and help to address public health and animal control concerns.

Spring has certainly sprung here at FLSPCA. Besides all the aforementioned activity and change, kitten season is also upon us – which means more animals in need of shelter, veterinary care and more mouths to feed! In upcoming months, we will provide you with new building project progress and program updates. We cannot thank our community enough for all of their support, generosity and compassion in helping us to speak for those who cannot speak for themselves.

Vicki S. Mosgrove, Executive Director

Katie's Fund

Since the start of this critical fund, and because of ongoing donations in support, over $13,000 in medical care and other services have been provided to these special needs animals. As a result, more lives of significantly injured and/or ill animals have been saved, and overall adoptability for these animals increased, thereby reducing the length of stay at our shelter for those animals.

SENIOR POMERANIAN RECEIVES CRITICAL CARE THANKS TO KATIE'S FUND!

"Sylvia"

A good Samaritan found this little senior canine wandering in the cold of December with a plastic bag on her head. She was immediately admitted to our shelter as a stray and in need of medical assessment and care. No family could be located for her. She had ear infections, a polyp in her throat, a stone in her stomach, an allergic skin condition (very itchy and missing hair on her backside) and was in need of spaying. Besides all of that, she also had severely overgrown nails, and desperately needed a good bath, deworming, vaccines and flea preventive.

Thanks to excellent veterinary care made possible by Katie's Fund, this little (but mighty) senior dog received necessary diagnostics, surgery and medications. After she had time to heal, and thanks also to lots of TLC from staff and volunteers, she became healthy, happy and recently was adopted into a loving home.

SYLVIA'S PAIN WAS QUICKLY ALLEVIATED AND HER CHANCES FOR ADOPTION INCREASED DRAMATICALLY THANKS TO KATIE'S FUND!

A HAPPY TAIL...

Frankie

He loves his rope!!! Thank you all for giving us the opportunity to give Frankie the home he needed. We couldn't be happier with our little family. He loves the car rides and hates being left alone. But, he is a very good boy when he is left alone. He loves other dogs especially females. He tends to always want to annoy male dogs but never shows any aggression. Little kids make his day. He loves having them around. He still needs some small tuning, but he's turned into quite the family guy!! Matt Cantineri & Sabrina Sprague

A HAPPY TAIL...

Nick & Nate

We just wanted to update you on Nick and Nate. They are all settled in and loving their new home. They love to cuddle and play all day and night with each other and us. Nate started sleeping in our bed with us the other day. And, Nick is such a lover. They both are, but Nick likes to be held like a baby and gives kisses. They are such wonderful cats, and we couldn't be more happy to have them. Thank you so much for helping us adopt them, and thank you to the SPCA for all the great work you do. Megan Turner & Keyan Scutt

A HAPPY TAIL...

Henry

We have been keeping in touch with Henry (the Hinny) and his new family! Henry is getting along very well with June Bug (bay mare). He is smitten with her, and Ach (white gelding) protects his new little brother and keeps watch over the whole herd. It is apparent Henry really likes his new home and loves his new family! Christine, his new person, says that June and Henry are best friends and sleep together in the same stall. He follows her all over the paddock. If they leave June's halter on her, Henry will grab it and lead her all over the pasture.
